HEALTH FOR RECONCILIATION 'Suwa Sewana' Medical and Counseling Camps

The Suwa Sewana programme was originally initiated in 2006 to help those who were displaced by the Kebithigollewa bomb attack come to terms with their loss and handle the trauma. The scope then expanded to include all the people living in conflict zones, and as a further step included people from localities such as Mahadivulwewa and Walapane which are prone to natural disasters.

A number of doctors selflessly sacrificed their time and effort for the project on a voluntary basis, without whom these camps would have remained an idealistic dream. A few of the medical camps that were conducted are as follows:

- The medical camp in Seru Nuwara from 9-10 September, 2006 courtesy of the Government Medical Officers' Association
- The medical camps in the areas of Wakarai, Siththandi, and Welikanda from 6-8 September, 2007
- The medical camp at the Palali base camp from 24-27 September, 2007 courtesy of the Office of Social Development Affairs to the President
- The counseling programme on disaster counseling, skill development, and stress management in Jaffna from 24-26 September, 2006 courtesy of the Sri Lanka Foundation Institution
